

Strong business depends on strong leadership

The corporate culture that fosters honest feedback for its leaders is the culture that thrives. Corporate leaders increase their effectiveness through the regular, rigorous analysis of their leadership skill and style.

Businesses large and small rely on Modern Survey's 360-Degree Leadership Feedback Survey to assess managerial qualities and critical performance behaviors. Our surveys provide valuable insight into a leader's strengths and developmental areas in terms of competencies, roles, impact on teams and alignment to the organization's vision, values and strategic goals.

Take advantage of our full-service team and engage a partnership that will create, direct and deliver results, equipping your organization with the insight it needs to stay sharp and competitive.

Our project management team will help you:

- Design your survey from our library of proven leadership competencies and survey questions
- Scope your survey to evaluate appropriately, from discreet samplings to global teams
- Manage access and allow leaders to nominate raters, send reminders and monitor response rates
- Select the administration option that meets your workflow protocols
- Maximize reports in the format that fits, from range reporting and top/bottom questions to benchmarking scores and identifying gaps
